25. Environmental Rules for Motorcycle Competitors

All motorcycle riders must use environmental mats in their parking bays and ensure that there is no spillage of fuel, oil, or other contaminations.

A supply of mats for Concours cars will be available at the Total inspection ramp for use by car competitors who have a fuel, or oil spillage problem.

26. Avoidance of noise in the motorcycle judging ring, car competitors paddock and the grandstand area.

To avoid disturbing race horses the Jockey Club of Kenya has insisted that no abnormal, or excessive revving of car and motorcycle engines is allowed during the Concours d'Elegance.

27. Consumption of Alcohol

Alcoholic drinks must not be brought into the competitors' paddock and the motorcycle judging ring. Competitors and officials are not allowed to drink alcohol until the final results have been confirmed at the end of the event.

Failure to observe this rule will disqualify the competitors who may also be excluded from future events and exclude officials from working at future events.

28. End of the Concours d'Elegance

The Concours d'Elegance is not considered finished until the time limits for protests have elapsed, and all protests and appeals have been settled.

All officials must remain on duty and be available to the Jury and The Chief Judge in case there is a protest.

If an appeal is lodged, the results cannot be considered as definitive until a final decision has been taken. The competitors placed first, second and third will be asked to attend the official podium prize giving ceremony if any.

29. Closing of the Concours d'Elegance

The Concours d'Elegance will close 30 minutes after the prize giving and the organisers will cease to be responsible for any issues arising after this time.

30. Responsible behaviour

While in the Nairobi Racecourse grounds Concours competitors are expected to behave responsibly. Any dangerous driving, or bad behaviour will result in penalties including disqualification and withdrawal of prizes (where applicable) and banning from future Concours events.

Section 2 – Method of Scoring

A. Vehicles with Four, or More Wheels

Originality is not taken into consideration in the assessment of Concours entries.

The judges, at their sole discretion, will allocate points under the following headings:

1. Underside Maximum 40 points
The main item of interest to the judges will be cleanliness, followed by a check of the exhaust system and a look for oil and water leaks.

2. External Finish Maximum 80 points
Points will be earned for cleanliness, condition of the paintwork, chrome, lights, etc. (The judges will pay particular attention to dents, scratches, chips in the paintwork, etc.).

3. Interior and Boot Maximum 60 points
The condition and cleanliness of upholstery, carpets, door panels, roof lining, dashboard, instrument panel, boot lining, spare wheel housing, etc. will be studied by the judges.

4. Engine and Engine Compartment Maximum 60 points
The condition and cleanliness of the engine and engine compartment will be checked, and the judges will also look for oil and water leaks and consider the condition of the wiring.

5. Roadworthiness Maximum 6 points
The judges will check tyres, headlights, tail lights, horn, indicators and windscreen wipers (where these are fitted). If a car is completely roadworthy, six points will be earned. One point will be deducted for each mechanical weakness (e.g. an unserviceable tyre).

If a vehicle is not driven along the judging line, but has to be pushed from one judging point to another, a penalty of ten points will be deducted.

6. Age

It is inevitable that a vehicle suffers wear and tear through usage and that vehicles which are comparatively new will have an advantage over those which have covered many kilometres over several years of service. In order to compensate entrants with older vehicles, the following points will be allocated for age:

25 years old and under 26 years old	25 points
26 years old and under 27 years old	26 points
27 years old and under 28 years old	27 points
28 years old and under 29 years old	28 points

The allocation of points for age continues along these lines up to a maximum of 40 points for vehicles which were made 40 or more years ago. Vehicles which are over 40 years old will receive 1 point for every 10 years in excess of 40 years.

To illustrate by examples: a vehicle which is 29 years old (but less than 30 years) would receive 29 points and a 53 year old vehicle would be allocated 41 points (40 plus 1).

The age of competing vehicles may be established by the log book or by some other form of proof acceptable to the organisers.

In cases where documentary proof of age is unavailable, inadequate, or not appropriate, the organisers will date the vehicle by assessing the age of the main structure. If a vehicle consists of a variety of parts made by several manufacturers in different years, the date of completion of building the vehicle will be the age of the machine for the purpose of judging at the Africa Concours d'Elegance. The dating of the vehicle will be carried out together with the entrant.

7. Tie Breaker

In the event of a tie, the advantage will be given to the older vehicle. If by an unlikely coincidence both vehicles were registered on exactly the same day, the Chief Judge will examine the two vehicles concerned and decide which is the winner.

B. Motorcycles

Originality is not taken into consideration in the assessment of Concours entries.

The judges, at their sole discretion, will allocate points under the following headings:

1. External Finish

Maximum 70 points

Points will be earned for cleanliness and condition of the paintwork, chrome, lights, road wheels and instrument panels. (The judges will pay particular attention to dents, scratches, chips in the paintwork.).

2. Engine and Mechanical Components

Maximum 40 points

The engine, gear box, exhaust, drive, electrical systems and all metallic parts will be checked and the judges will also look for oil and water leaks. Points will also be earned for the cleanliness of the engine and gear box.

3. Trim

Maximum 40 points

The condition and cleanliness of the saddle, carriers, fairings, battery and all non metallic parts will be assessed.

4. Roadworthiness

Maximum 4 points

If a motorcycle is not ridden along the judging line, but has to be pushed from one judging point to another, a penalty of ten points will be deducted.

In the case of a specialised high performance racing motorcycle, it will be sufficient for the competitor to start the engine, run it for approximately two minutes (to show if there are fuel, or oil leakages) and ride to one judging point.

5. Age

It is inevitable that a motorcycle suffers wear and tear through usage and that motorcycles which are comparatively new will have an advantage over those which have covered many kilometres over several years of service. In order to compensate entrants with older motorcycles, the following points will be allocated for age and mileage:

5 years old and under 6 years old	5 points
6 years old and under 7 years old	6 points
7 years old and under 8 years old	7 points

The allocation of points for age continues along these lines up to a maximum of 40 points for motorcycles which were made 40 or more years ago. Motorcycles which are over 40 years old will receive 1 point for every 10 years in excess of 40 years.

To illustrate by examples: a motorcycle which is 26 years old (but less than 27 years) would receive 26 points and a 53 year old motorcycle would be allocated 41 points (40 plus 1).

The age of competing motorcycles may be established by the log book or by some other form of proof acceptable to the organisers.

In cases where documentary proof of age is unavailable, inadequate, or not appropriate, the organisers will date the motorcycle by assessing the age of the main structure. If a motorcycle consists of a variety of parts made by several manufacturers in different years, the date of completion of building the motorcycle will be the age of the machine for the purpose of judging at the Africa Concours d'Elegance. The dating of the motorcycle will be carried out together with the entrant.

6. Tie Breaker

In the event of a tie, the advantage will be given to the older motorcycle. If by an unlikely coincidence both motorcycles were registered on exactly the same day, the Chief Judge will examine the two motorcycles concerned and decide which is the winner.
